

JOB APPLICANT PRIVACY NOTICE

The Company is aware of its obligations under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and current data protection legislation, and is committed to processing your data securely and transparently. This privacy notice sets out, in line with data protection obligations, the types of data that we collect and hold on you as a job applicant. It also sets out how we use that information, how long we keep it for and other relevant information about your data.

Data controller details

The Company is a data controller, meaning that it determines the processes to be used when using your personal data. Our contact details are as follows: Chris Bullick – chris.bullick@commonthread.agency

Data protection principles

In relation to your personal data, we will:

- Process it fairly, lawfully and in a clear, transparent way
- Collect your data only for reasons that we find proper for the course of your employment in ways that have been explained to you
- Only use it in the way that we have told you about
- ensure it is correct and up to date
- Keep your data for only as long as we need it
- Process it in a way that ensures it will not be used for anything that you are not aware of or have consented to (as appropriate), lost or destroyed.

Types of data we process

We hold many types of data about you:

- Your personal details including your name, address, date of birth, email address, Phone numbers
- Your photograph
- Gender
- Marital status
- Whether or not you have a disability
- Information included on your CV including references, education history and Employment history
- Documentation relating to your right to work in the UK
- Driving licence.

How we collect your data

We collect data about you in a variety of ways including the information you would normally include in a CV or a job application cover letter, or notes made by our recruiting officers during a recruitment interview. Further information will be collected directly from you when you complete forms at the start of your employment, for example, your bank and next of kin details. Other details may be collected directly from you in the form of official documentation such as your driving licence, passport or other right to work evidence.

In some cases, we will collect data about you from third parties, such as employment agencies, former employers when gathering references or credit reference agencies.

Personal data is kept in personnel files or within the Company's HR and IT systems.

Why we process your data

The law on data protection allows us to process your data for certain reasons only:

In order to perform the employment contract that we are party to

In order to carry out legally required duties

In order for us to carry out our legitimate interests

To protect your interests and

Where something is done in the public interest.

All of the processing carried out by us falls into one of the permitted reasons.

Generally, we will rely on the first three reasons set out above to process your data.

We need to collect your data to ensure we are complying with legal requirements such as:

Carrying out checks in relation to your right to work in the UK and Making reasonable adjustments for disabled employees.

We also collect data so that we can carry out activities which are in the legitimate interests of the Company. We have set these out below:

Making decisions about who to offer employment to

Making decisions about salary and other benefits

Assessing training needs

Dealing with legal claims made against us

If you are unsuccessful in obtaining employment, we will retain your data in case other suitable job vacancies arise in the Company for which we think you may wish to apply. If you do not wish us to retain this data please email Chris Bullick – chris.bullick@commonthread.agency, there will be no consequences for this.

If you have applied speculatively then we will keep your data in line with principles of this policy, and may contact you if a suitable vacancy becomes available.

Special categories of data

Special categories of data are data relating to your:

Health

Sex life
Sexual orientation
Race
Ethnic origin
Political opinion
Religion
Trade union membership and genetic and biometric data.

We must process special categories of data in accordance with more stringent guidelines. Most commonly, we will process special categories of data when the following applies:

You have given explicit consent to the processing
We must process the data in order to carry out our legal obligations
We must process data for reasons of substantial public interest
You have already made the data public.

We will use your special category data:

For the purposes of equal opportunities monitoring

We do not need your consent if we use special categories of personal data in order to carry out our legal obligations or exercise specific rights under employment law. However, we may ask for your consent to allow us to process certain particularly sensitive data. If this occurs, you will be made fully aware of the reasons for the processing. As with all cases of seeking consent from you, you will have full control over your decision to give or withhold consent and there will be no consequences where consent is withheld. Consent, once given, may be withdrawn at any time. There will be no consequences where consent is withdrawn.

If you do not provide your data to us

One of the reasons for processing your data is to allow us to carry out an effective recruitment process. Whilst you are under no obligation to provide us with your data, we may not be able to process, or continue with (as appropriate), your application.

Sharing your data

Your data will be shared with colleagues within the Company or authorised 3rd parties where it is necessary for them to undertake their duties with regard to recruitment. This includes, for example, the HR department, or HR Consultancy firm, those in the department where the vacancy is who responsible for screening your application and interviewing you, the IT department where you require access to our systems to undertake any assessments requiring IT equipment.

In some cases, we will collect data about you from third parties, such as employment agencies.

Your data will be shared with third parties if you are successful in your job application. In these circumstances, we will share your data in order to ensure reference processes, contract production and that your details are maintained on our internal systems .

We do not share your data with bodies outside of the European Economic Area.

Protecting your data

We are aware of the requirement to ensure your data is protected against accidental loss or disclosure, destruction and abuse. We have implemented processes to guard against such.

Where we share your data with third parties, we provide written instructions to them to ensure that your data are held securely and in line with data protection requirements. Third parties must implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure the security of your data.

How long we keep your data for

In line with data protection principles, we only keep your data for as long as we need it for and this will depend on whether or not you are successful in obtaining employment with us.

If your application is not successful and we not keep your data for the purpose of future suitable job vacancies, we will keep your data for 6 months once the recruitment exercise ends.

Unless you have requested us not to, we will keep your data on file for future job vacancies, for 18 months once the recruitment exercise ends. At the end of this period, we will delete or destroy your data, unless you have already withdrawn your consent to our processing of your data in which case it will be deleted or destroyed upon your withdrawal of consent.

If you have not applied for a specific vacancy but have provided your information on a speculative basis, we will keep your data on file for future job vacancies, for 18 months from the date you applied. At the end of this period, we will delete or destroy your data, unless you have already withdrawn your consent to our processing of your data in which case it will be deleted or destroyed upon your withdrawal of consent.

If your application is successful, your data will be kept and transferred to the systems we administer for employees. We have a separate privacy notice for employees, which will be provided to you.

Automated decision making

Generally no decision will be made about you solely on the basis of automated decision making (where a decision is taken about you using an electronic system without human involvement) which has a significant impact on you. We do this in limited circumstances and only when there are specific criteria that are not related to any protected characteristic. If you believe that you have been rejected unfairly as a result of an automated decision making process then please contact us.

Your rights in relation to your data

The law on data protection gives you certain rights in relation to the data we hold on you. These are:

The right to be informed. This means that we must tell you how we use your data, and this is the purpose of this privacy notice

The right of access. You have the right to access the data that we hold on you. To do so, you should make a subject access request

The right for any inaccuracies to be corrected. If any data that we hold about you is incomplete or inaccurate, you are able to require us to correct it

The right to have information deleted. If you would like us to stop processing your data, you have the right to ask us to delete it from our systems where you believe there is no reason for us to continue processing it

The right to restrict the processing of the data. For example, if you believe the data we hold is incorrect, we will stop processing the data (whilst still holding it) until we have ensured that the data is correct

The right to portability. You may transfer the data that we hold on you for your own purposes

The right to object to the inclusion of any information. You have the right to object to

The way we use your data where we are using it for our legitimate interests

The right to regulate any automated decision-making and profiling of personal data.

You have a right not to be subject to automated decision making in way that adversely affects your legal rights.

Where you have provided consent to our use of your data, you also have the unrestricted right to withdraw that consent at any time. Withdrawing your consent means that we will stop processing the data that you had previously given us consent to use. There will be no consequences for withdrawing your consent. However, in some cases, we may continue to use the data where so permitted by having a legitimate reason for doing so.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights explained above, please contact Chris Bullick – chris.bullick@commonthread.agency.

Making a complaint

The supervisory authority in the UK for data protection matters is the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO). If you think your data protection rights have been breached in any way by us, you are able to make a complaint to the ICO.

